

CHINA – SHANGHAI UPDATES 3

June 1, 2022

Dear Valued Customer,

Shanghai has fully restored the normal order of production and living across the city starting from June 1, 2022. Buses, rail transit network and ferry services have resumed operations as well.

A negative nucleic acid test report within 72-hour is required for one to enter public places and taking public transportation.

APL Logistics office in Shanghai will re-open gradually from 100% working from home to a hybrid-working model starting from June 6, 2022.

- CFS warehouse: Operation has been fully resumed. Yangshan warehouse resumes 24 hours operation while Waigaoqiao warehouse operation time is from 6:00-20:00. Vendor can deliver cargo to Shanghai with no restrictions.
- Trucking service: no restrictions for LCL/FCL trucking moving in and out of Shanghai, but a 48-hour negative nucleic acid test report is still required.
- Customs/Terminals/Airport have resumed to full operations.

If you have any further questions or concerns, please contact your APL Logistics Account Manager or local APL Logistics office.

Sincerely,
APL Logistics